

AUG.

1923.

Gillwell

Boys Camping Ground. Gillwell Park.

Farrington Series.

Saturday 25th Aug.

Through the kindness of the 36th Stepney Troop & their Scoutmaster, Mr. W. Brown - who had previously arranged it with our S.M. this day saw three Northleigh Scouts sets out for the Great Scouting School of Gillwell Park.

The 36th Stepney were providing them with tenting etc. & they had only to take their food. Such wonderful hosts as these London Scouts were to our boys, by inviting them to share a weekend with them in Camp at Gillwell.

Grey Wolf met them at Paddington & took them across London to Waterloo here to embark for Chingford.

That evening they were received with the warmth of Scoutingness into the Fellowship & Spirit of the Brotherhood in their forest home - Grey Wolf was a

Published by J. Farrington.

137, Bow Road, E.3.

Saluting the Flag - Giffwell Park.

9.

Published by J. Farrington.

117 Bow Road E. 1

Council Five Gilwell Park

true Scoutmaster to our chaps + the yanks, & life of the Camp Fire was fully shared by them.

On Sunday they attended the Scouts Own - the first one of our boys had ever known - Roping & other Scout stunts, besides their Camp craft was also found time for.

In the afternoon a ramble through Epping Forest to Waltham Abbey was shared with the boys by Mr. Rodney Wood, the Camp Chief.

In having made life long friends of them real Brother Scouts, & feeling more gratitude to Grey Wolf than it was possible to attempt to express, they left Gillwell Park that evening speechlessly full of the greater Scout Spirit they had gained.

The homeward journey as far as 1st Northleigh Troop, Oxon.

S.M. Muri Jones K. Mason

Seated centre,

A GLIMPSE OF TRAINING GROUND - GILLWELL PARK. Farrington

THE BATHING POOL.

GILLWELL PARK. Farringdon Series

Waterloo was rowdy in the extreme, in the complete spirit of healthy boyhood.
Shipped along to Paddington once more & on the way to Oxford, where a car met which landed them home after midnight.

This was a wonderful time. And though so short a weekend, it is the most wonderful experience those three Scouts hold - & the 36th Stepney, Grey Wolf & Gilwell will always be remembered with admiration & gratitude as having shown them of our senior boys

George Porter
Sidney Burton &
Bernard Glenister.

the true perspective of Scouting -